

Music Week Ends With Festivals and Many Concerts

Events Held at Museum of Natural History, Central Park and Capitol Theater.

Music week ended last night with many events from early morning until late in the evening. Two of these, of particular note, were the afternoon and evening concerts under the auspices of the Inter-Racial Council of New York in the auditorium of the American Museum of Natural History, provided for these two occasions through Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn. The concerts were made up of numbers by the foreign peoples of New York, each nationality contributing. Edwin Franko Goldman was director. The concerts were arranged by Mr. Felix M. Warburg and Mrs. David Rumsey, chairman and vice-chairman of the council, and the details were presided over by Samuel M. Auerbach, secretary.

Guests of Honor.

Dr. Albert Shields of Teachers' College presided. The guests of honor were the consuls General of New York Ernesto C. Perez of Argentina, Krikor Chibouk of Armenia, Pierre Maille of Benin, Helio Lobo of Brazil, Frederick Hudd, Canadian Trade Commissioner, Ruming Suez of China, Dr. Borivoj Prusik of Czechoslovakia, George Beck of Denmark, J. P. Albio of Finland, Gaston Liebert of France, Gloster Armstrong of Great Britain, George Trapanoulos of Greece, Louis Vasek of Hungary, T. P. Bernardi of Italy, Kyo Kumasaki of Japan, Arthur B. Lale of Latvia, R. P. de Negri of Mexico, D. J. Steyn Parve of the Netherlands, Hans Fay of Norway, Stefan Grotowsky of Poland, Jorge S. Duarte of Portugal, T. T. Wells of Roumania, Dr. Paul Karovitch of the Kingdom of Serbia, Charles A. Minot, Archibald M. Beres of Spain, Olof J. Lamm of Sweden.

Elias Breekin, violinist, was added to the evening program as an additional attraction. The settlement houses of New York made a substantial contribution to Music Week. The United Neighborhood Houses, in cooperation with the People's Music League, presented on the north meadow of Central Park, Sunday afternoon, a pageant on the blessings of peace. One thousand children took part in the pageant, one thousand more, costumed as different flowers, were in the chorus. The executives of the day were Mrs. Julius C. Bernheim, chairman, arts and festivals committee; Miss Olive Whitson, spring festival committee; Mrs. Arthur M. Reis, music committee; Mrs. William Mayerowitz, art committee; Mrs. Ned Kaufman, prize song and lyric committee; Miss A. L. Sparks, peace banner committee; Mrs. S. Nelson, grounds committee; Miss Margaret Oppenheimer, costume designer; Miss Ida Oppenheimer, refreshment committee.

Children Win Prizes.

Another of the big entertainments was given in honor of the elementary and high school children of New York at the Capitol Theater, the playhouse and its entire program being donated. At this event the prizes for school children given by the Music Week Committee were awarded. Otto H. Kahn, honorary chairman of music week, presenting them.

The prizes were for the first and second best essay by a high school girl or boy on "Musical Appreciation from the Standpoint of the High School Student." The prize winning essay was by Elmer Kleefeld, 4B, Bryant High School, Long Island City, and the winner of the second prize was Miss Celia Antopolosky of the Girls' Commercial High School, Brooklyn.

Prizes also were presented to the three best high school orchestras of New York who went into competition in the Washington Irving High School auditorium Thursday evening and Friday afternoon and evening, the boys' orchestras, the girls' orchestras and mixed orchestras. The judges handed in sealed decisions as to the winners and the envelopes were not opened until this morning at the Capitol.

George H. Gartin, director of music in the public schools; Miss Isabel Lowndes, director of music week, and S. L. Rothafel were the central figures of the morning together with Mr. Kahn, Mr. Rothafel giving a brief talk on the "Relation of Light to Music" and illustrating it with special light and musical effects.

Five thousand five hundred children were in the audience, those selected for the event being members of the high school orchestras, members of the high school choruses and the leading ten in the department of music in each high and elementary school.

BILLIE BURKE TAKES LEAD IN FILM POPULARITY CONTEST

Larry Semon Still Clings to First Place Among Actors—
Fund Reaches $17,190.

Miss Billie Burke, popular alike on screen and stage, went to first place in the motion picture popularity contest, as the daily records were closed yesterday at the quarters of the May Carnival Committee at No. 1 East Fifty-seventh street. She had registered 11,253 votes at 10 o'clock in the morning, but a rush of approval took her to head line position with a score of 15,259 ballots of good will.

Miss Constance Binney is crowding on the heels of the leader for first place with a count of 15,098 votes. Miss Mary Pickford stands fourth and Mrs. Lydia Hoyt is in the fifth place.

Larry Semon, who sprang into the lead among the men on Friday, clung to the pinnacle waving a record of 2,125 votes, with Will Rogers, Charlie Chaplin, Jackie Coogan and Tom Mix in the two thousand class. Mr. Mix sent a telegram saying he had forwarded a check for $100 to the treasurer of the May Carnival Committee, Mr. James G. Blaine, Jr., saying that he was doing all he could in helping the cause in Los Angeles.

Semon became so aroused thinking of what his friends think of him that he entrained in California for New York and will be at the Hotel Astor next Tuesday to be declared the most popular male star—that is if he hears anybody saying him.

The total number of votes cast up to 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when the books were closed for the day, was 171,906, which means $17,190 for the work of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, for which the May Carnival Committee is conducting the present campaign.

Two screen actresses—Misses June Ferguson and Polly Salisbury—started from Times Square at 11 o'clock yesterday morning trundling huge hoops, which were advanced a foot for every vote. They were so overwhelmed with ballots, however, that the crowds made them retrace their steps, and so they hurried along for hours to Fifty-fifth street and back. One admirer put in a twenty dollar goldpiece as a contribution. Stars of the screen will visit department stores to-morrow afternoon, and throughout the city the call to aid the cause of the poor will be heard. The contest will close on next Tuesday night with the dance at the Hotel Astor, at which society stars of the screen and the public will acclaim the most popular actor and actress as shown by the final vote.

Miss Madge Kennedy will appear personally to-morrow at several of the large stores in Fifth avenue and Broadway. She will speak not for herself, but for the cause of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor.

"GARDEN DAYS" FOR CHARITY.

Messrs. Samuel Untermyer and J. F. Detmer Open Places.

Under the auspices of the women's committee of the Westchester County Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the first of the "Garden Days" for the benefit of the organization was held yesterday in Mr. Samuel Untermyer's classic Greek garden at Greystone, Yonkers, and also in Mr. Julian F. Detmer's rock garden at Edgemont, Tarrytown, to which gardens the general public was admitted for a small fee. These "days" will continue each Saturday afternoon until the final Saturday in June, and the proceeds will be used for the temporary shelter of the society, which is kept open day and night to give care to any child in need.

On succeeding Saturdays there will be thrown open the gardens of Mrs. William G. Nichols, Rye; Mrs. Louis S. Levy, Hobbs Ferry; Mrs. I. N. Speigelsberg, Braintree; Mr. E. E. Snathers, Purchase; Mrs. Frank R. Chambers, Bronxville; and Mrs. John A. Browning, Ossining; Mrs. George Arens, J. Rye; and Mrs. Walter Douglas, Chaucery, and finally those of Mr. W. W. Law, Briarcliff, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Brewster, Mount Kisco.

ZOOLOGICAL PARK RECEPTION.

Garden Party to Follow Opening of New Building.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the New York Zoological Park will hold its annual garden party at the park Thursday, May 25, between 3 and 6, following the opening ceremonies of the new and beautiful Head and Horns Building.

Among those who will receive with Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn are Mrs. William C. Rockefeller, Mrs. Pinley J. Shepard, Miss Anne Morgan, Mrs. Pierpont Morgan, Mrs. Stephen H. Olin, Mrs. Reginald Fincke, Mrs. George Whitney, Miss Joan Whitridge, Mrs. De Forest Grant, Mrs. Alexander S. Webb and Miss Eleanor de Graft Cuyler.

Tea will follow the reception. Park Commissioner Albert E. Gallatin has promised to be present.

Miss Billie Burke.
